Plugins

- ★ Plugins are kind of like apps. They are downloaded and installed quickly and then open on your page to be viewed or used.
- ★ Plugins often use a shortcode that can be put into a page by simply copying/pasting it onto the edited page.
- ★ Look at the reviews and installs. Check compatibility (usually not a problem). Make sure the plugin is updated recently for safety.
- ★ Many plugins run in pages and/or in sidebars. They may add a new editable item in the dashboard to customize it.
- ★ Google whatever it is you'd like on your page followed by WORDPRESS PLUGIN and suggestions will come up.
- ★ Most plugins have tech support you can contact directly and tutorials to get help installing them.

My Favorite Plugins

mTouch Quiz

-Create quizzes, embed with shortcodes

Slider WD

-Scrolling and customizable slide show

Contact Form 7

-Great addition to a sidebar. Move it there using widgets.

Did You Know?

-Another great sidebar addition or on a page

Fun Facts

-Simply added using a shortcode

Master Slider

-Similar to Slider WD - more complex editing

The Events Calendar

-Embeds a simple calendar reminder on your page

Important Terminology

Sidebar: A space on the sides, above, or below a webpage. Menus, widgets, and plugins can be added here.

Widget: A small application with limited functionality applied to a webpage.

Web Hosting: Virtual space where a website is stored electronically to be viewed on the internet. Web hosting costs money but opens functionality.

Sidebar: A space on the sides, above, or below a webpage. Menus, widgets, and plugins can be added here.

C-Panel: A dashboard for a HOSTED site—more behind the scenes controls of a webpage.

Recommendations for a Good Site

- 1) Keep it simple
- 2) Make it visually engaging
- 3) Use attractive/contrasting colors
- 4) Keep pages and content visible—pages should be easy to recognize and predict what is on them
- 5) Maintenance is key! Update regularly and checks plugins for updates too!
